UNITED CHURCH NOTES

An Open Letter From the Minister Dear Friend: First of all I do not want you to think that I am presuming to call you "friend" without a responsive echo on your part, for quite frankly, this letter is addressed to those who are friendly towards the church, and personally I believe that includes almost everybody. I am well aware that many people seldom, if ever, attend service and adopt a somewhat critical attitude towards the church; yet I am convinced it is not because they consider the church a useless institution. Often times it is simply a matter of habit—they have got out of the way of going to church—and the criticism are friendly rather than hostile—hoping for better things. A witty Frenchman once said "We cannot get along with the church but we cannot get along without it." I imagine there are many who will agree with the sentiment expressed in these words. That is to say, they are in sympathy with the ideals of the church, and they feel that an ideal church would minister to their deepest needs; but they are dissatisfied with the church as they look upon it from without.

Henry Ward Beecher once said that "the church is not a gallery for the exhibition of perfect saints but a school for the training of imperfect ones." The church, though she is going on to perfection, is still a long way off, but is steered in the right direction, and with more help will make better progress. It cannot be doubted that the Irma church has touched the life of the community in the years past, at many points and influenced it for good. True, there have been failures, mistakes and "things left undone", but these are often due to lack of advice and help which "outside friends" could give if they would come inside. Well, you will see in another part of this paper an announcement in regard to our anniversary services, which will give us all an opportunity to rally to the support of the church and help her to carry on the good work more effectively. Your presence is desired, and a hearty welcome awaits you. We will do our best to make you feel at home, so as you will come again. If you feel so disposed, you will have the opportunity of making a freewill anniversary gift, but while we need financial help from those who are able and willing to give, it's YOU and not your money we're after. "A friend in need is a friend indeed". You need the church—the church needs you. "What a Friend we have in Jesus!" Come and help to make this church a friendly church, in fellowship with Him.

Yours with abounding goodwill,
— E. F. Kemp.

While a number of Jarow ladies were discussing management of husbands recently, a newly wedded lady was asked: "Has your husband improved any since you married him?" "Oh, yes," she replied, "Before we were married he used to fasten his suspenders with a nail. Since our marriage he has always worn a belt."

When horses are loaded crosswise into an open motor truck, they are safer if their heads are towards the outside of the road. Reports tell of horses seriously injured by passing traffic—often another truck—when the horses had their heads towards the centre of the road. The danger is greatest at night.

PRICE — SHAW

On Monday, October 12th, at 2 p.m., at St. Thomas' church, Wainwright, was solemnized one of the prettiest weddings of the season, when Mr. T. Shaw of the Battle Heights district gave his daughter, Annie, in marriage to Leonard Price, of Camrose.

Miss Shaw was very simply but beautifully robed in white crepe-back satin. Her long flowing veil was held in place with a coronal of orange blossom. White gloves, shoes and stockings completed her bridal array, with crystal earrings her only ornament. Miss Shaw carried a lovely bouquet of tallman roses and ferns. Miss Ellen Shaw attended her sister, and looked very pretty indeed in pink crepe de chene, with hat to match, and white accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of pink and white carnations. The bridegroom, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Price, of Mombrough, Derbyshire, England, was supported by Mr. Robt. Dempsey of Irma. A very large number of relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony which was performed by the Rural Dean, Rev. C. N. Bateman. The wedding music was played by Mrs. C. N. Bateman.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Shaw, who were celebrating their silver wedding as well as the wedding of their daughter. It was on October 12, 1911, when Mary Ellen Harthorn became the bride of Thomas Shaw of Hatton, in her own parish church of Church Broughton, Derbyshire. In 1925 Mr. and Mrs. T. Shaw came to Canada with their six children and made their home in the Battle Heights area. The following year another son, Robert, was born to them. All their children were present for the festivities including Mrs. H. Armitage of Irma who is twin sister to Mrs. Leonard Price and Tom, Sid, Ellen, Edith and Robert, also two grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Price were very charming and hospitable hosts and hostesses. Mrs. Shaw was very smart in a gown of boue crepe, while Mrs. Price wore her wedding dress.

Toasts were proposed to the bride and groom of 25 years and to the bride and groom of a few years. Mr. J. C. Ford, which met with spontaneous applause from the many guests present, also "The Farmer" through the courtesy of C.J.C.A. voiced the good wishes of the community. The presents were numerous and beautiful which testified to the esteem which Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. Price hold in their community and surrounding districts. The bridegroom, Mr. Price, gave his bride a wrist watch and to Miss Ellen Shaw a necklace of pearls. Dancing took up a large proportion of the evening. Mr. Alf. Larson being the fiddler, assisted by mouth organ and accordion from other friends present.

Songs were rendered during the evening by Mrs. C. N. Bateman, Mrs. H. Ackroyd, Mrs. R. Headon, Mr. J. C. Ford, Mr. Fred Ford, Mr. Jimmie Jackson, Mr. Dawson and others. Rev. C. N. Bateman gave a few words of encouragement to the newly married couple, and congratulated Mr. and Mrs. T. Shaw, and expressed appreciation for the wonderful hospitality extended to the guests present, which included: Mr. and Mrs. H. Armitage and two children; Messrs. H. and J. Armitage, of Sedgewick; Marshall Dawson; Miss Vera Harding; George Foreman, all of Sedgewick; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Larson and Violet, Jack McFadden, Miss Mary Kehle, R. Dempsey, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fletcher, all of Irma; Mr. and Mrs. H. Ackroyd and daughter, and Rev. C. N. and Mrs. Bateman, of Wainwright; Messrs. Tom, Sid, Robert, and Miss Edith Shaw, Mrs. G. B. Golding and Allen, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ford, Fred and Harry, Mr. W. Grey and Miss V. Grey, Mr. and Mrs. Solldan, Mr. and Mrs. R. Headon, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ivanson, Mr. Leo LaPalm, Mr. Sam Turner, Mr. and Mrs. George Tindall and son George, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Laycock and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. Caron, Mr. and Mrs. W. Fletcher, Mr. Elmer Anderson, and others. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Price will make their home at Camrose.

Education And The Teacher

Few people look upon periods of depression such as Western Canada has experienced in the past few years, along with most of the other countries of the world in varying degree, with complacency. On the contrary here, as elsewhere, such experiences are usually regarded by the great majority as periods of unadulterated evil, with dissatisfaction and unrest their inevitable concomitants.

It is customary, under such conditions, to surround everything with a halo of gloom. Everything is wrong at home and abroad. Words and deeds are subjected to criticism in an intensive search for microscopic flaws and motives are probed with deep, underlying suspicion. Altruism and faith in fellow mankind almost appear to have gone into hibernation and the whole stream of life seems to be ruffled with turbidity. Criticism is the order of the day.

Criticism of the right type and with the proper motive behind it has, of course, its place in the scheme of things. In fact, without it, there could be little if any progress, but if it is to fill its appointed role in life, it must have behind it a sincere desire to promote betterment and must be dictated by reason rather than swayed by blind passion.

The educational systems and educational methods in operation in the prairie provinces are among the many things which have had to run the gamut of the critical vogue of the period. The criticism which has, in recent years, been voiced freely at conventions, school board sessions, public meetings and during election campaigns in the home and on the street comes not only from parents of children attending educational institutions and the general public but also from educational authorities, teachers and others trained in the craft of pedagogy.

One hears, on the one hand, that the educational system is too expensive and too extravagant. On the other hand, governments and trustees are accused of parsimony. One day the people are told that, in effect, the educational system and set-up is lagging behind the times and the following day that it is too far advanced for the requirements of present day social conditions and requirements.

As to methods, curricula, equipment and text books, criticisms are legion and varied, so much so, in fact, that it would take a ponderous tome to even list them. While it may be very difficult, and perhaps impossible to crystallize all these opinions and criticisms into some co-ordinate form which might enable them to be attacked and dealt with on a scientific basis, the existence of so much discussion on such an important topic demonstrates, at least, that the depression is having the beneficial effect of arousing a keener interest in a topic of vital interest to the future welfare of the country, because it cannot be denied that the trend of education of the youth of today will largely determine the destiny of the nation tomorrow.

Because of this it is highly important that there should be some unification of majority opinion on educational systems, methods and trends. There are one or two things which should not be lost sight of in this welter of discussion which often, unfortunately, ranges around comparatively trivial details. That is, the main purposes of educational systems, which might briefly be enunciated as the intention of developing a desirable type of citizen and of developing a citizen capable of fitting himself or herself into the life of the community.

This means the development of a race of people with character and ability to think and act for themselves. If this is borne in mind as the chief objective of education, the great importance of the character and ability of the teacher becomes immediately apparent, a matter of far greater importance than the method, the text book or the curriculum, or even greater importance than the type of building in which instruction is carried on or the equipment that is used in imparting information.

The statement is not made with any intention of conveying an impression that the schools of the west are not staffed with teachers of character and capacity. On the contrary, the standard of the teaching profession has improved very materially and rapidly for so young a country as the Canadian west and teachers of the present day generally represent a high standard.

But it should be pointed out that if more emphasis is laid on the character and ability of the teacher as an essential of the first importance, the controversies over many other phases of the educational system would assume their rightful comparative values and would be relegated to the rear as questions of more or less minor consequence.

Replicas Of Crown Jewels

Collection Represents Forty Years' Hobby Of One Man

There will shortly be on view in London a collection of about 2,000 full-scale replicas of Crown jewels, regalia, insignia, and other emblems of royal ceremonial which have cost their owner nearly £30,000.

The collection covers most of the past and present monarchies of Europe, and represents the 40 years' hobby of one man and endless patient work by jewellers, stone-cutters, polishers, and other highly skilled craftsmen. Naturally the British Crown Jewels hold pride of place. They go back to the crown of Alfred the Great (c. 871) and embrace the crowns, sceptres, and orb of St. Kings and Queens since that time. Every example is as near a perfect reflection of its original as is possible, except, of course, the diamonds, rubies, pearls, and other precious stones, which are represented by brilliant and synthetic stones.

Each is an absolute copy for size, shape, cutting and setting, color and polish, and so meticulous has been the effort to achieve historical accuracy that the owner of this collection has literally spent months in the Tower and the London museums making sketches and in collecting photographs and measurements.

In olden days each King and Queen had a new set of Coronation Jewels. Most of these were destroyed in the Commonwealth days, and in more modern times economy calls have resulted in crowns being altered to suit successive monarchs.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels, gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body and you feel sick and the world looks pink.

A more powerful movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless and gentle, they do the work of a dozen laxatives. They do the work of a dozen laxatives. They do the work of a dozen laxatives. They do the work of a dozen laxatives.

Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse any other name. 25c.

King Of Dowsers Arrives In London From Vienna

Armed with a small silver divining rod, and clad in a picturesque uniform, Dr. Emerich Herzog, "King of Dowsers," arrived in London from Vienna on search for gold and on in England.

Interested parties, he says, have invited him to take part in the hunt for oil in the south. During his stay he will undertake a lecture tour, his engagements including an address to the British Society of Dowsers.

Drawing his rod from an inside pocket of his coat, Dr. Herzog gave a demonstration. Held over a cup of water the rod pointed its sprung tip downward.

This rod is not his only apparatus. He has with him 27 different types of dowsing machines for divining the presence of different mineral deposits.

Dr. Herzog, 76, has 49 years' experience of dowsing. He claims the discovery of important deposits of copper, gold, beryllium and platinum in Austria and himself owns gold, silver and lead mines revealed by his own rod.

Dr. Herzog came over to England by air and says that while the aeroplane was travelling between the coast and Croydon he recorded oil and gold deposits.

Racing Greyhound Leaped 2,000 Feet To Its Death

After biting its way through the fabric of an airplane during a trip from Brisbane to Sydney a racing greyhound leaped 2,000 feet to its death. The dog had been placed in a wicker crate in the baggage compartment at the rear of the passengers' cabin, and apparently became excited at air travel. It escaped from the crate and then started the task of tearing its way through the fabric. It eventually succeeded for when the air liner arrived at the Sydney airport, the greyhound was missing and the fabric was torn.

Japan Buys Canadian Ship

Merchant Marine Freighter Has Been Sold Five Times

Apparently under permanent ownership at last, the former Canadian government merchant marine freighter, Canadian Leader, sailed from Halifax with a Japanese crew for the West Indies to pick up a cargo of scrap iron consigned to Japan.

Since her sale along with nine other government steamships last winter to the Montreal-Australia-New Zealand line, the Canadian Leader has had a checkered career. She was sold by the Anzac line to the British Tower Steamship Company, resold to Rethymnia and Kulu-kunda, Greek shipping company, and finally bought by Japanese interests at a price reputed to be $82,500. It was also reported Japanese interests had bought the Canadian Victor, now in England, and the Canadian British at Montreal.

Revising Their Manners

Japs Studying Proper Greeting For Next Olympic Visitors

Foreigners who attend the Olympic games at Tokyo in 1940 will be spared the embarrassment of the naive Japanese salutation, "How old are you?"

Police are passing the word around that the heretofore proper greeting from the Japanese viewpoint—is distasteful to foreigners, especially women.

Although the Olympiad is three and a half years ahead, Japanese are already getting ready. Study of English has been given a great impetus among eldore clerks, policemen and businessmen. Early concern for the morals of Japanese girls is being dissipated.

For Coronation Day

State Coach Of Speaker Of The House Being Reconditioned

The state coach of the speaker of the House of Commons is being refurbished up for the coronation.

Its last appearance was at King George's jubilee, when the speaker rode in it to St. Paul's. At King George's coronation in 1911 it merely conveyed the speaker from the House of Commons to the abbey, a distance of less than 300 yards.

Oddly enough while the coach, with harness and stables, is provided by the state, the speaker has to arrange himself for horses. For nearly a century Whitebread's brewery has had this privilege, which dates from the time when Mr. Speaker Shaw-Lefevre married a Whitebread. The coach weighs nearly 3½ tons, and having no brakes cannot go down hill.

Breathes With Iron Lung

Birdall Sweet, now 18, has completed the fifth year he has spent with an "iron lung" to aid his breathing. Hospital attendants in Beacon, N.Y., described his spirits as good and his growth in height and weight nearly normal. His treatment began after an attack of infantile paralysis.

"I hear you're going to be married, old man! I hope you'll be very happy."

"Well, I don't see why I should not. I came through the War all right."

Our sins will find us out, but they can generally be relied upon to call again.

Show Their Patriotism

Thousands Of Families Change Swedish Surnames To Finnish

Thirty thousand families have officially changed their Swedish surnames to more Finnish-sounding ones. This wave of patriotism follows the example of 25,000 families who did the same at the recent Kalevala (national epic) centenary celebrations. Considerable confusion has resulted from this sudden change, states a message from Helsinki. Postmen, particularly, are finding it a problem to deliver letters to the right people, and correspondents have to think twice when they address business and personal friends.

A Brand New Industry

Calling Elk For Photographers Is Job Of Banff Guide

Banff has a brand new industry which was invented by Les Saunders, of Bowden, north of Calgary, who is a trail guide there in the summer. On long pony trail trips he amused guests at the Banff Springs Hotel by imitating the peculiar mating call of the elk. It was not long until he found bull elk answering him, and finally approaching near to investigate. Now he is kept busy calling elk from the woods for enthusiastic photographers.

— A NOVEL BY —

He answered her as swiftly: "I'd know better than to use my regular line with you! Please give me credit for some good sense."

Starr could not have told why it was, but suddenly she felt her eyes drawn away from her dance partner as though toward a magnet. A little to one side of the room, Michael Fairbourne was standing alone, watching her. Handsome, debonaire Michael. He smiled when her eyes met his and his own gray eyes spoke a message.

They said, "Well done, Starr!" He was applauding her as he might have applauded an actress who was giving an extraordinarily good performance. That was all she needed to him her name as he had said: "All I ask is that you keep your name in the headlines!"

He was pleased to see her making a hit with Lance, because any new flame of Lance Marlowe's was bound to be the subject of plenty of conversation—and newspaper copy. And every mention of her name by word of mouth gossip, through the tender mercies of the columnists, or as straight news would send the sales of his book soaring.

Suddenly within Starr Ellison was born an angry resentment against Michael Fairbourne. How dared he stand there so smug and self-satisfied, watching her carry on her pitiful mockery? What did he know of the reasons of desperation which had urged her to be his open sesame to riches via the publicity route? He was making her struggle on the end of a string like a puppet, and adding the supreme insult of applauding her gyrations. How dared he!

No, that was not quite fair. There was a two-sided bargain. Though he could never guess the reason for her acceptance of his offer, he had made her understand only too well what he expected of her. She, in her desperation, had been glad enough to accept his offer. How could she have known that association with Michael would stir so much of bitterness in the depths of her? How could she have guessed, for one wild moment, how it had come to be that sometimes when he was alone with her in that Egyptian penthouse which was the result of his crazy dreams that there would come times when she was afraid to trust herself to speak? How could she ever have guessed anything of that electric quiver in the flame of him, that too often showed in his gray eyes when he did not imagine it, and that sent fiery warning signals dancing along through her veins?

Oh, it was going to be hard to play the game to the end—so very hard! But play it she must, and would. Yet it took all that was in her sometimes to keep from reeling when they would be talking together over some point and he would be so close to her that she could hear his heart pounding. She would have to hold onto herself to keep from swaying.

For lids drooped over her eyes so that neither man could see them. Starr answered her own question. Life had been a question before. Now there was a new one—the question of what to do when love came unbidden. She knew what the answer was. She must learn to skin: the surface of life as Lance Marlowe did. She turned of the man whose arms encircled her, suddenly feeling the need of his worldly philosophy. He was smiling at her as the music stopped. He said:

"Have a little drink?" "Don't they always say, 'Neither I'll drink nor you any harm'?" Starr laughed, but shook her head. "Me—I'm not so sure."

But he was leading her toward a partly concealed bar, elaborately fitted up in modernistic blue and silver. Again Starr shook her head faintly. He persisted. "Do you good. A little drink softens life's sharp edges."

She gave a queer little laugh. "But my life hasn't any sharp edges," she lied. Lance's restless eye probed. He retorted, with a keenness of perception that was almost uncanny: "Nonsense! Everybody has sharp edges!"

"Even you?" she parried. "Even I?" he mocked. "Most particularly I, because I fear you are not going to fail for me as rapidly as I had hoped."

That destroyed their seriousness. Suddenly Starr was laughing again, skimming the surface.

A gay little group was gathered around the bar. Stephanie was there, but Starr did not see Michael. Lance glanced around as he found a high stool for Starr, calling to the bartender: "Champagne!" To the group at large he suggested: "Join me? How about us making a community toast? A toast to—whom?"

A blond man, whose hair was tousled and dress shirt awry weaved away from the bar and waved his glass. He was gloriously drunk, and one moment later it was quite plain that he had been participating in a conversation that had for its subject Starr Ellison and the debut party being given in her honor by her publishers. The bartender was pouring the champagne. The blond man boomed out:

"A toast? Sure we'll give a toast! Let's all drink a toast to the newest and loveliest chateleine of Lance Marlowe's penthouse—Starr Ellison. Long may she wave!"

The glass dropped from Starr's nerveless fingers and splintered against the bar. Stephanie giggled, breaking a tense silence. Her eyes clashed with Starr's as she lifted her glass and drank deep. It was a deliberate insult.

The drunken man's words roused in everybody's mind the same thought; that the man in his cups may have known whereof he spoke, and that in wine there is truth. Very likely he knew that Lance intended to make Starr his mistress; that perhaps she had already agreed, so that it was no longer a secret. It would be in character. Her reputation was against her.

Lance said quietly, as he advanced a threatening step, his fists clenched: "Take that back!" The drunk swayed on his feet defiantly and leered knowingly, his glance wavering from Starr to Lance, and back again.

One of the girls squealed: "Oh, a fight!"

Stephanie's high voice cut in: "A fight, yes! For the honor of a woman who doesn't know what the word means! How exasperating!"

Lance hesitated in his attitude of threatening, glanced one at Starr and then showed his good sense. He grasped the obnoxious blond insulter by the arms and led him outside. Starr found herself trembling like a leaf. Never in her life had she felt quite so alone and friendless. No one approached her. But everything had caught up with her in a rush, overwhelmed her. She was glad Michael was not there to be a wit-

Where Bicycle Is Popular

Number in England Almost Doubled in Five Years

A London letter in the Ottawa Journal says what will be to many the most surprising fact revealed by last year's traffic census is that the road vehicle which has been making the greatest advance in popularity in recent years is the humble push-bike. The figures show that the number of pedal-cyclists on our roads has almost doubled since 1931.

Though the bicycle is ubiquitous there are certain towns where it enjoys special popularity. Of these cities Oxford is believed to head the list, a fact which suggests that even in this age of motoring it is not every undergrad who can afford to keep his car. Southampton, a town which led notably in the first great boom of bikes and bloomers in the "Naughty Nineties," still possesses an exceptionally large number of cycling citizens, who, like their parents and grandparents, still turn out in hundreds to promenade the Avenue and Common.

The enormous number of cycles in use may possibly offset the impression gained from accident statistics that cycling is the most dangerous form of road transport.

The possibility of the Coronation ceremony being televised as well as broadcast is being eagerly discussed in British radio circles.

Royal Mint Is Busy

Greater Demand For Coins From Banks in England

At the royal mint they are working overtime making more money. A new system came into operation recently.

Increased activity has nothing to do with coronation activities. It is entirely due to a greater demand for coins from the banks.

An official of the mint explained: "There are fluctuations in demand, and it is not always possible to find the real reason for some months."

"A demand at this time of the year, however, is almost certainly due to greater industrial activity, more employment, and consequently more wages."

Coins now being struck will bear the image of King George.

Although King Edward has approved designs for the new coinage, the royal mint will continue to make King George coins until the formal approval of the King is announced in a royal proclamation.

Building Large Bank

The German Reichsbank is to be the largest building in Berlin. When two extension buildings, are completed within the next two years, the banking officers will enclose 680,000 cubic yards—260,000 cubic yards larger than the palatial new Air Ministry of 2,500 rooms.

Only One Way Out

Debts Can Be Cleared When Borrowing Is Stopped

There is no practical way out of debt except to repay it. A dollar borrowed is a dollar owed and a dollar on which interest must be paid. We are writing now in the entangling meshes of the debt we have woven for ourselves. There is only one way to free ourselves: to stop public borrowing; to spend on government only those sums which can be obtained by reasonable taxation.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go

The liver should pour out two pints of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink. A more bowel movement doesn't always get the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes three good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a natural but have no sodium or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Sincerely yours, Dr. J. C. Plan For Crop Insurance

One of the planks in the Democratic party's platform in the forthcoming United States elections is a scheme for crop insurance devised by Secretary H. A. Wallace. The plan is a most elaborate one and the basis provides the fixing of a normal yield figure for each farm in the country raising wheat, corn or cotton. In bumper years the farmer will be required to hand over to the government a pre-determined percentage of his surplus. In years of crop failure, like the present, the government will hand back to the farmer enough of his wheat, corn or cotton, or its equivalent in cash, to give him 75 percent of his normal yield. The advantage of the plan is that the hardships of drought years would be eliminated and the farmer would be assured of enough money to live on and to buy at least part of his necessary working equipment. As pay day for farmers who raise these particular commodities comes but once a year drought disaster usually plunges the individual into a morass of debt from which it takes him years to extricate himself.

The Origin of Hallowe'en

Hallowe'en is the eve of All Hallow's, or All Saints' Day, and comes down from the last three festivals observed by the Druids. The Druids were a tribe of ancient days who were scattered over Northern Europe, and their three great festivals occurred on May 1, the season for sowing; June 21, the time of ripening; and October 31, the time for gathering in the harvest.

On October 31, the Druid Priests met at their sacred altars, dressed in their white robes, to extinguish the fires and kindle new ones that were to insure good luck throughout the winter season. This ceremony was carried on amid much shouting and ceremony, and the homes were supposed to be protected so long as the fires were kept burning.

With the spreading of Christianity this idea faded away, and gradually the serious nature of the ceremonies changed into our present mode of celebration—fun-making. By and by, the simple-minded country folk began to believe that the fairies left their hiding places on that night and danced in the forests, while goblins and witches held revels over deserted ruins and dark ways.

All these changes were very gradual and even as late as the 17th century, farmers would make a tour of their estates on Hallowe'en, swinging burning torches and chanting weird songs, to protect their land from evil during the winter.

The Perfect Newspaper Man

A few years ago a London periodical printed a list of the qualities and attainments and worldly things that a perfect newspaper man should possess and the number of items of knowledge with which he should be familiar; we preserved it as a curiosity; here it is:

Ability; abbreviation, activity and assiduity; brains and brass; circulation, commendation, credit, coal cash, consideration and constitution; dictionary, dynamite and date; engines, energy, epigrams, erudition and experience; facts, faith, flattery and foresight; galleries and gump; honours, humor, and hustle; ink, ingenuity and integrity; justice and jokes; kindness; lithographers, linotypes, logic and leniency; money, machines, misery, muscle, muck; nerve, nobility and notebooks; opportunity and overwork; paste, presses, power, paper; punctuality and pelf; pace and quickness; reason and reputation; soap, scissors, sense, sociability, success and substance; type, tape and typewriter; utensils, understanding and urbanity; vacations and verbosity; wheels, woe and wisdom.

That the wealth hidden away in the Northwest Territories may duplicate the discoveries of valuable minerals already made was the prediction of Dr. F. Jolliffe, head of the Geological Survey, Ottawa, in an address before the annual convention of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, which was held here during the past week. He said only a fraction of the vast area of 1,000,000 square miles has yet been explored. Indications were that greater mineral deposits than have yet been found are still to be discovered in the north country.

The Melancholy Days Are Here

The ideas associated with autumn, and especially October, are often not happy ones:

"The melancholy days are come,
The saddest of the year,
Of wailing winds, and naked woods,
And meadows brown and sere."

If a person is at all inclined to be pessimistic, like the author of the above, the thought suggests itself that the gloriously long and sunny days of summer are over; that the inevitable period of decay has come; that nothing now remains to him but to pass through a season of dank discomfort until he emerges to find himself in the icy grasp of winter!

That there is another and a brighter side was undoubtedly in the mind of the Rev. Thomas Constable when he sang:

"Hail, old October, bright and chill,
First freedomman from the summer sun!
Spice high the bowl and drink your fill!
Thank heaven, at last the summer's done!"

Autumn is no less the season of glorious fruition, when bud and blossom have at last fulfilled their mission and changed to ripened fruit, when the long labours of the farmer have culminated in the harvest field, and all alike—the harvest mouse and squirrel, sparrow, ploughman and millionaire—share the common bounty, and find yet again the great promise fulfilled that to the end of time the days of harvest shall never fail.

Ruskin said that "the purest and most thoughtful minds are those which love colour most". There must be, therefore, many such minds in October. For surely very few do not appreciate the countryside when it is alight with the fire-red, scarlet, crimson, yellow and golden leaves of the maple, willow and poplar.

But the function of the leaves with their dazzling and variegated colours are not limited to mere ornament and shade. Nature assigns to them infinitely more important offices, both to surrounding nature and to the tree of which they form a part. They purify the atmosphere, restoring to its normal condition, rendering it healthy and salubrious when vitiated by the breath of animals. Nature has in this, as in all her works, united decorated elegance and beauty of form with direct and immediate utility.

Protest Aherhart Remarks on Press

Calgary, Oct. 13.—At the final session of the convention of the Alberta branch, Canadian Weekly Newspapers' association here Saturday it was decided to send a letter to Premier Aherhart protesting against his making statements "misrepresenting the aims and ideals of newspapers."

The letter read as follows: "Hon. William Aherhart, B.A., 'Premier of Alberta, Edmonton.

"Dear Sir—The resolutions committee of the annual convention of the above association submitted the following to the convention, which instructed the executive to forward a copy to you immediately at the close of this convention:

"Honorable Sir—The Alberta division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' association in convention in Calgary Oct. 9, and 10, 1936, wishes to file a formal protest with you against the misrepresentation of the aims and objects of Alberta newspapers as a whole, which has been taking place since your government assumed office, and against unwarranted attacks and charges that the independent newspapers of the province, meaning those which are not official organs of a political party, follow the practice of deliberately misrepresenting the news and deliberately publishing untruths for the purpose of influencing the public.

"In the opinion of this meeting, there is no foundation for such charges and, if in your opinion, such deliberate misrepresentation and publication of untruths has taken place, we respectfully request that you or other offended parties seek redress in the courts under the existing laws or state to which articles and newspapers you refer so that newspapers as a whole may cease to be placed in the unfair light in the eyes of the public in which they find themselves today.

"Signed executive committee, Alberta division, Canadian Weekly Newspaper association, per H. T. Halliwell, president."

FREEDOM

The people of this province are soon to know economic freedom, that is, they are soon to enjoy to the full the benefits of social credit. The foundation of economic freedom is provincial credit—credit created with a pen by a party government. The majority of the people of Alberta know this to be feasible, so there you are. The majority of the people of Alberta also know that the unearned increments will be huge in an economic system where all prices are fixed; large enough at any rate, to make a provincial premier into a monthly Santa Claus. The old once-a-year thing must go into the discard with individual savings, bank notes and interest.

You'd think that had cleared the way; but no, the freedom of the press must also go. It is part of the cultural heritage of a democratic people, but it is that part of it that is inimical to a provincial party government in the throes of bringing forth economic freedom for eight hundred thousand people.

Economic freedom in its embryonic stage is heard, not seen. It is not exactly music, but loud mouthings of the good things political aspirants (who have no more than the rest) can give to the rest. Next come gifts from the government to the people. The prosperity bond is such a gift once the recipient has worked for it, and bought and put on his quota of revenue stamps. In the same way dividends will be a gift from the government to the people once the people have delivered to the credit houses a percentage of their earnings.

Of course, one gets figures in a big book as a record of this, and what makes these figures so unique is the fact that there is nothing behind them of monetary value once the people have parted with their surplus. And this makes even the figures a gift from the Alberta Government to their faithful. However, if some are "traditional minded" and can't see that this legend of substance is freedom; then, it is "their God-given right" to suffer more.

It is sad to think upon the great numbers who have died for the freedom of conscience, and for freedom of thought and speech. Are we now to be taught that they were wrong and received only their just punishment? Strange how slow and belated is human progress in this world. Why wasn't social credit evolved for man at the same time prehistoric man applied it to animals—to animals which would be of use when tamed. These animals (dog, cow, horse, etc.) by becoming domesticated gained economic freedom—man feeds them.

Or does it take longer to feed people. Perhaps all these years' and years, were needed to develop the social credit attitude of mind. And doesn't that prove that mind is a hindrance to the executive to forward a copy to you immediately at the close of this convention:

"Honorable Sir—The Alberta division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' association in convention in Calgary Oct. 9, and 10, 1936, wishes to file a formal protest with you against the misrepresentation of the aims and objects of Alberta newspapers as a whole, which has been taking place since your government assumed office, and against unwarranted attacks and charges that the independent newspapers of the province, meaning those which are not official organs of a political party, follow the practice of deliberately misrepresenting the news and deliberately publishing untruths for the purpose of influencing the public.

One of the largest shipments of cattle ever to leave this district for the eastern markets, was shipped from this point on Friday, October 9, by L. Markell, well known stock buyer. Eighteen cars were required for the 850 head of cattle that left for the east.

Clem Loughlin left last Saturday evening for Hibbing, Minn., where the Chicago Black Hawk hockey team will train for the coming season. Manager Clem has quite a few new men on the roster who will be given a tryout. He was to leave on Friday but the flyer failed to stop.

Wesley H. Collier and son Donald spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Herb Collier, and renewed friendship with former associates here. Don won the tennis courts, apparently glad to swing the racket once more on the fast Viking battleground.

Many took advantage of the holiday to pursue the elusive duck and goose. Murray Murdoch and party sought glory in bagging the geese, but returned with memories only of saluting the feathered tribe.

Brown's garage is getting a new coat of paint this week. The ceiling has been raised a foot, making room for higher trucks, and the walls are being insulated as a greater protection against the cold winters.

On October 23rd there will be a gathering of the Sunday school works throughout the Wainwright Presbytery at the Viking United church, beginning at 2 p.m.

A young people's rally will be held on the evening of the same date. Rev. R. W. Hibbert, secretary of Religious Education, formerly of Calgary and now of Vancouver, will be present.

The Viking branch of the Canadian Legion held a meeting last Saturday evening and discussed matters pertaining to the welfare of the organization.

Mr. A. E. Fee, M.L.A., addressed a group of business men in the town hall, explaining the registration forms for retailers, and other matters pertaining to the set up of credit houses. Mr. and Mrs. O. Michon and Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Runyon paid a visit to Brissard's at the Manse farm on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Michon of Wainwright visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Runyon over the week-end.

R. Ratke, of Bruce, is treating Brown's garage to a new coat of paint using a brighter color for the exterior.

Mr. McIntosh, north of town, left last week for a visit with friends and relatives at Tibury and other points in Ontario.

Mrs. W. H. Collier has been appointed superintendent of the Sunday school of Knox United church in Edmonton.

Thanksgiving day was an ideal day, warm and sunny. As a holiday one could not wish for better.

The friends of Mr. George Lyness gathered on Tuesday evening, October 13th, at the Quinte school to bid him farewell before he leaves for New Zealand. Coming some ten years ago from Ireland, George has made his home in this district and has carried out farming operations. He has been active in all good causes, taking his part in church and community affairs, and he will be greatly missed. After a program of songs and readings and instrumental selections, the chairman, Dr. Stanley Scott, called on Mr. J. Hyslop to make a presentation on behalf of the C.C.F. and other friends, of a parting gift. George replied in a few well chosen words. Lunch was served and then followed much hand-shaking, everyone wishing the parting guest bon voyage and a successful future.

Farmers' Problems Relieved

In an interview granted to the press by the Hon. C. C. Ross, Minister of Lands and Mines, he mentioned the problems confronting the purchasers of School Lands, many of whom bought at a time when the financial returns from farm produce was very much in excess of today's prices.

The Minister stated that since taking charge of the Department he has been giving considerable thought to the situation and having decided upon the necessity of granting some specific form of relief, action has been taken by proclamation to reduce the interest on the undue instalments of the contracts from six per cent to four per cent, and interest on arrears from seven per cent to five per cent.

The Minister stated that the most outstanding part of the proclamation deals with the assistance that will be given to the purchasers who bought at the peak of prices and who find that through depletion of their resources, they are unable to comply with the terms of the contract. Such purchasers will have the right to make application to the Registrar of the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act for a compromise, and the Minister explained that the Department would write each contract holder as to how the purchaser should proceed if he wishes to take advantage of the legislation.

Sales that have been cancelled since Sept. 30, 1930, may be reinstated if the land is available, and such settlers will have the same privilege to bring their cases before the Registrar for a compromise or reduction in the terms of the contracts.

The Minister pointed out that this action is consistent with the stand taken by the Government at the recent session in dealing with the reduction and settlement of outstanding debts. Those settlers wishing to obtain advantage of these concessions would, he stated, be well advised to take immediate action so that they may secure the full benefit offered by these amendments.

Policyholders Own the "Assets" of Life Insurance Companies

As a great co-operative enterprise, Life Insurance has built up Assets in Canada totalling, approximately, two billion dollars. Yet these Assets are relatively small when it is realized that they are jointly owned by about 3,500,000 policyholders—one-third of Canada's population.

On the average, each policyholder owns $571 as his share of the total Assets in Life Companies operating in Canada. Obviously, the great majority of policyholders are men and women of ordinary means—thrifty people who, year by year, have entrusted to Life Insurance part of their savings so that they may have financial security against the uncertain future.

These policyholders represent the best type of Canadian citizens. They have sought to preserve their financial independence, and, as thrifty citizens, neither they nor their dependants are ever likely to become charges upon government or municipal relief.

To protect the interests of these 3,500,000 Canadian policyholders, Life Insurance Companies have invested their Assets in government and municipal bonds—in first mortgages—in public utilities and industrial enterprises—and in other authorized securities.

The soundness of the Investment policy of the Companies has been tried and proven during periods of severe financial stress. Governing and corporate bodies in which policyholders' moneys are invested have, until recently, maintained the integrity of their obligations. This has made it possible in turn for the companies, in their capacity as trustees for the policyholders, to fulfill every obligation guaranteed by their policies.

Now, however, there is a growing tendency to repudiate, by legislation, public and private debts, regardless of the debtor's ability to pay. Legislation which tends to destroy the ownership of public and private property places an unjust burden upon life insurance policyholders.

Viking's New Modern Hotel Open to Public

(From The Viking News)

Another milestone in the progress of this community and district was reached last Thursday, when the new Viking Hotel was officially opened. The structure is a fitting successor to the former King Edward hotel which was burned to the ground in November, 1935, when a whole block of business buildings was destroyed by fire. The King Edward was widely known by the travelling public as a first class hotel and was the means of bringing a great deal of favorable attention to our town. After eleven months without a hotel, this community realizes more than ever the great loss that was sustained, both in a social and business way, and the new hotel will fill a long felt need of proper accommodations.

The new hotel is planned for the comfort of guests. It is the first air-conditioned and heated country hotel in the province. Each of the twenty rooms have hot and cold running water with modern toilet facilities on each floor.

Upon entering the hotel you step into a large commodious rotunda, bright and cheerful. A fire place in modernistic design casts a warm glow over the place and a radio keeps you in touch with the outside world. The dining room adjoins the rotunda and presents an inviting appearance. Meals are brought in from the kitchen where up-to-date refrigeration methods are used to keep the food in the best of condition and is served in a most appetizing way.

The guest rooms are on the second floor and are well and neatly furnished. Mattresses, tables, and the rotunda furniture were all made in Alberta. The heating plant is located in the basement and is automatic in operation. Natural gas is the fuel used. The water system and the electrical apparatus for the refrigeration units are also located in the basement.

The building as a whole is well constructed, having insulated walls, rooms air-conditioned throughout, with stucco as exterior finish. It is a fine looking building and an addition to the business section that the community may well be proud of.

DAILY AIR MAIL FOR PROVINCE

Calgary, Oct. 14.—Daily air mail and passenger service will be operated from Lethbridge to Calgary and Edmonton to link up with the trans-Canada route. It was known here today after a visit of Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of transport.

En route to Ottawa, Mr. Howe last night announced Calgary and Edmonton would have an air mail service, starting next spring, and later passenger carriage would be provided.

Alberta Will Be Forced To Borrow Again

The Alberta government has $366,000 in its sinking fund to meet the maturity of $1,250,000 due on Nov. 1. Hon. Charles Cockcroft, provincial treasurer stated on Wednesday. The maturing bonds bear interest at six per cent.

The minister stated that with regard to obtaining the balance to meet the maturity "all avenues will be explored in our desire to meet the maturity."

At Hanna, Premier William Aberhart was quoted as saying that assistance of the Dominion government might be sought in obtaining the necessary funds.

SUSPENSION LIFTED ON EDDIE WENSTOB

Suspension of Eddie Wenstob, Canadian light-heavyweight by the British boxing board control, has been lifted, this paper was informed on Tuesday by Frank Heller, secretary of the Edmonton Boxing and Wrestling commission.

There is only one stipulation and that is Wenstob must give an option on his first fight in the old country to Captain Prince-Cox, Bristol promoter.

On September 16, 1935, following a whirlwind campaign in England, Ireland and Europe, Wenstob who competed for a 10-round bout at Bristol. Wenstob claimed that he was in no fit condition to go on with the fight and accordingly refused to do so. Following that he was suspended by the British board of control. A few weeks later the Canadian Boxing Federation suspended the Canadian boy.

The new winter road route to Goldfields from McMurray was approved by Hon. T. A. Crerar, federal minister of interior and mines, who conferred with Hon. W. A. Fallow, Thursday morning. Before the Dominion will be finally committed to the plan to construct this northern highway to the shores of Lake Athabasca, the approval of Dr. C. Cammell, deputy minister of mines, will be sought. He is an expert on northern matters and knows the territory over which the proposed road will be constructed. Work will commence immediately word is received from Ottawa that Dr. Cammell approves, Mr. Fallow stated.

SPORTS

The school athletic contests uncovered a lot of real talent, in legs. Put these legs to work along the line that indicated superior ability and fame and shekels may come pouring into your lap. Well, that is if you happen to own such a thing. Just put your lamps on those Oxford scholars from the University. Brains did not put them there, but legs did. Because they were fast, or could jump long of high, or vault like a kangaroo, Cecil Rhodes offered to polish their brains at Oxford. Laugh at it if you will, but trained legs will get you many a good job. They will take a whole flock of boys and girls over to Japan in 1940. Want to go? Then get busy.

This year has brought millions of dollars into the strong boxes of the baseball clubs. Anxious to please the public, which pays the piper, the managers are out looking for new blood. They want the fellows who can pitch or hit or run better, and they dangle fat purses before your eyes. The big clubs have "farms" where the likely youngsters are tried out and seasoned. Plenty of changes in the line-up are slated.

The Vancouver boxer, McLarnin, is back in the picture. It was the other fellow this time who put his nose in the canvas for the count. So our Jimmy will be holding out his hand for a big bag of Uncle Sam's silver cartwheels.

Clem Loughlin has left for Hibbing, Minn., to meet his flock of puck-chasers and there start intensive practice. Nineteen have been placed on the pay sheet, fellows for the most part who have received their early training on the small ice sheets of Canadian towns. Clem appears to have a fine lot of young men to handle. Hockey fans of Viking will follow the record of the Black Hawks, and look upon them as "our team," just because Clem is the manager.

Lacrosse was an old Indian sport. So it was unique to have a team of Indians represent B.C. against the famous Orillia "Terriers." This game calls for all the pep and ginger in a man, and some near to being hockey in the air. Heads take the place of ankles, with blood flowing freely. Many an ear has loosened its moorings in this game as the gutted sticks scramble for the ball. The Indians captured but one game of the series so the mug went for the third successive year to the Orillia boys.

The Journal sports editor had the following to say about Eddie Wenstob who has returned from the U.S. following a recent boxing bout:

"Eddie Wenstob arrived home Sunday. His right arm is in a sling, the hand being in a cast. Apart from that he's in the proverbial pink. Likes everything about St. Paul, Minneapolis and Chicago. Thinks Freddy Lenhart, who beat him on Oct. 2, is a fine fellow and a real good boxer. Confident, too, that he'll win the next time they meet. Sure, there'll be a next time. Injured Hipper is not in good shape, especially the thumb, but Eddie knows now that he has an excellent chance of fighting again with two sound mittens to help him out. A poorly-fitted boxing glove caused the injury. That, and of course, the fact that Eddie hit Lenhart on the elbow."

The Ladies' Aid held their regular monthly meeting in the church on 7th of October. Final arrangements were made for the annual chicken supper which will be held on Friday, Oct. 25.

A delightful afternoon was spent on Friday last when a number of ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. E. Barton to give a "kitchen shower" to Mrs. T. Prior (nee Miss Eileen Mackins). Games and contests were enjoyed during the afternoon. At the appointed time, Little Pat Barton entered the living room, dressed as a kitchen maid, drawing a nicely decorated wagon "well filled with useful gifts for the bride. Each gift had an appropriate rhyme, and when read caused much merriment. Mrs. Prior thanked the ladies for their gifts in a few well chosen words. A very dainty lunch was served by members of the Ladies' Aid.

Mrs. Lindquist and baby son are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Peet.

Miss Veda Marberry, who was visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Matthews, has returned to her home in Melville, Sask.

Thanksgiving service was observed in the United church on Sunday, October 16th. The church was nicely decorated for the occasion.

Rev. R. W. Griffith is attending the Presbytery meeting at Holden this week.

Miss Joan Matthews of Millet, is visiting with her mother for a few weeks. She expects to return to Millet.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Peet are leaving on the 15th for a month's holiday in Ontario, visiting friends and relatives. The Ladies' Aid Melville held a chicken supper and concert on Friday, October 9th. It was a huge success, both socially and financially. An excellent supper was served, after which several musical numbers, readings and a good play by the Melville young people, were greatly enjoyed by all.

The intestinal flu is still on the rampage in Jarrow districts. Mr. A. Christenson and Mr. J. W. Moore are both confined to their beds with the disease.

We are glad to report that the section crew of Jarrow will not be moved from here, for the present at least.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Whidden, and Margaret, Dorothy and baby Whidden, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. D. Whidden, motored to Dapp, Alberta, last Wednesday to visit with relatives for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark and children motored to points on the line north of here last Sunday, renewing old acquaintances.

Dr. Haworth of Viking was called to Jarrow Tuesday of this week to attend the sick people in this district.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lisson visited Lamont last Friday, and they spent the week-end visiting their son Raymond in Red Deer.

It is hoped that the citizens of Jarrow to wake up and put a stop to the many bulls running at large through the town, endangering the lives of our people and especially the little children who are playing about.

QUINTE QUIPS

Mrs. R. E. Westbrook returned on Saturday after a month's visit in the city.

Mrs. Phil Lee is spending a week with her mother, Mrs. W. Garden. Mr. and Mrs. Swain of Lussland, Sask. are visitors at the home of Mrs. Swain's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tufts, at Philpity.

The tea and hot cooking sale held at Quinte last Saturday was well attended. The Quinte ladies wish to thank all those who in any way helped to make it such a success.

Could Not Accept Gift

Horse Offered To King Edward Had To Be Bought

The borough of Salford in Lancashire, England, offered the king as a gift a chestnut gelding called Cherry Grove, bought two years ago for the chief constable. Cherry Grove stands 16 hands high.

It is against etiquette for royalty to accept gifts outside their own immediate circle. But the Duke of Beaufort, master of the horse, inspected Cherry Grove and bought him for £150 ($750). Henceforth he becomes the king's charger.

Important To Doctors

Science Has Taken X-Ray Movies Of Human Body

The first successful X-ray motion pictures of the organs of the body in action were shown before the American Roentgen Ray Society in Cleveland. The movies, made with an amateur motion picture camera set in front of a fluoroscopic screen used by physicians to see the X-rays pass through the body, satisfy a wish which many medical men have had for years.

Dr. William H. Stewart, Dr. William J. Hoffman and Dr. F. H. Chisell of the Lenox Hill hospital of New York, presented the development with the comment that it is "probably destined to become an important division of Roentgenological investigation and diagnosis" as well as in teaching and other uses.

They showed a human heart beating, a throat swallowing food, a stomach and part of the small intestine digesting food, the lungs filling and a diaphragm falling and lifting in the rhythmic process of breathing.

British Trains Punctual

The London, Midland & Scottish Railway has just set an enviable record for punctuality. A return issued at Euston showed that out of a total of 274,098 express and local passenger trains run within a recent four-week period 262,968, or 96 per cent., arrived at their destination on time.

A five-ton truck in England recently was driven 100 miles with solid fuel made from coal. An estimated fuel saving of 60 per cent. was recorded.

Year-Round Fire Prevention

Fire prevention week has come and gone, but fire hazards are still extant. If, however, the lessons learned during the recent fire prevention week's campaign are taken to heart and borne in mind, the risks of loss of life and property from this source should be minimized, in any event for a short time until memory withers.

In a country like Western Canada, however, fire prevention week should be every week the year round, so far as the individual is concerned, and certainly from October 1, when hard stoking commences, until about April 7 when furnaces and stoves are extinguished for a short summer season.

As indicated at the outset, memory soon lapses, and while impressions of the importance of care and precaution in the handling of fire may be vivid during the course of a public campaign, such as accompanies an event like fire prevention week, they soon fade. Such campaigns serve a useful purpose temporarily, but whether they are effective permanently depends upon the receptiveness and retentiveness of the individual mind.

Moreover, with fire, as with everything else, familiarity breeds contempt. The continuous use of fire in the home or store, day in and day out for 24 hours of the day is apt to result in relaxation of precautionary measures against potential contingencies. This, coupled with increasing impairment and declining efficiency of equipment as the long winter months drag towards a close, combines to enhance the hazards of loss from conflagration.

These observations are inspired by the facts which statistics of Dominion and provincial authorities and fire insurance companies and newspaper stories record.

Despite the annual campaign which is carried on with much vigor and great publicity by these combined forces in an effort to instill precaution in the public mind, the fire demon continues to take a terrible toll of life and property in this Dominion.

When it is reported that on the average, every day in the year one life is sacrificed and more than one person injured by fire and $110,000 worth of property goes up in smoke in Canada, the phrase "terrible toll" assumes definite significance and gives graphic portrayal to the adage which says that "fire is a good servant but a bad master."

A daily loss of property of $110,000 is equivalent to approximately $40,000,000 a year. The enormity of this sacrifice to the fire god can be better appreciated when it is pointed out that the figure is a close parallel to the Dominion government's contribution under relief legislation in each of the years 1931 and 1932, the two years in which federal expenditures for this purpose reached a peak since the depression started. In 1931 the federal government's relief bill amounted to $42,716,715 and in 1932 it was $36,930,144, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

In other words, the people of Canada, on the one hand, are destroying annually $40,000,000 of property as a result of their carelessness in handling fire and on the other hand, are, in heaviest unemployment years, paying out approximately the same amount for relief of unemployment, through federal taxation channels.

Much concern has been shown and is being shown over the large sums which the federal government has had to pay out in its efforts to grapple with the loss occasioned by unemployment and industrial and agricultural depression. Figures of expenditures for this purpose and articles dealing with various phases of the cost of unemployment and depression have been published almost daily during the past few years, yet but little is heard of the equally heavy loss occasioned by fire, except once a year when the annual fire prevention campaign is in progress.

And yet this heavy fire loss is more easy to cope with than the unemployment and relief problem. All that is required is the exercise of the same care—the year round as that which people display in the handling of fire during fire prevention week when the subject is fresh in their minds. It is not necessary to recapitulate here and now the lessons which have been taught during fire prevention week, the precautions which must be taken to ensure that loved ones will not be burned to death or maimed for life and to prevent the destruction of homes, barns or other buildings and furniture. If only people will train themselves to remember and practice these precautions and to maintain vigilance the year round, this tremendous toll of life and property can be reduced almost to zero.

Gold Production Gains

Production In Canada During 1935 Greatest In History

Gold production in Canada during July, 1936, advanced to 319,505 ounces compared with 316,670 ounces in June and 285,743 ounces in July a year ago. Production during the first seven months of 1936 totalled 2,087,014 ounces, an increase of 15.6 per cent. over the corresponding period of 1935. The price of gold during July averaged $34.91 per ounce, in Canadian funds, and valued at this price the Canadian output during the month was worth $11,183,920.

Gold production in Canada during 1935 was the greatest in her history, both in amount and value. The output every month so far this year has been greater than in the corresponding month a year ago, and all indications point to a new high production record for 1936.

World-Hiker Paralyzed

Son Of Famous Explorer May Never Walk Again

John Carver Wells, son of the famous explorer and who walked around the world in two years, may never walk again. At 25 he lies paralyzed in St. Pancras Hospital in London. After a gay and colorful life John Wells started a motion picture publication in London. He planned it, collected the news and the advertisements, and printed it himself. For months he worked from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. One day he collapsed in his office. Within 36 hours he could not move any part of his body. He has recovered the use of his hands and his head. Courage and determination have brought him through, and he declares he will not give up the fight to walk again.

Would Reduce Accidents

More than 7,000 lives could be saved yearly through adequate illumination of major traffic arteries between cities, Paul H. The earliest known date inscribed upon what is known as a "grandfather's clock" is 1681. 2172

Ideals Of The League

Hon. R. B. Bennett Voices Appeal On Behalf Of League Support

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Canadian Conservative leader, told an Australian service club that the British Dominions must support any agency whereby the collective power of mankind prevailed against those threatening annihilation of the civilized world.

Mr. Bennett voiced a fervent appeal on behalf of the ideals of the League of Nations. "Because there has been a failure to realize the fullest hopes for the League, we cannot discard it in its entirety," Mr. Bennett said. "I refuse to believe Napoleon's maxim that God is on the side of the heaviest battalions."

The former Canadian prime minister said that while human nature had defeated the hopes for the League as enunciated by Aristide Briand, the ideal remained. "Although the League lamentably failed to express punitive power against an offending nation, the world must try again." He said that the British Dominions must support the League to this end.

Mr. Bennett asked Australians not to consider Canada as an appendage of the United States. The choicest of our nation laid down their lives on the fields of Flanders in British loyalty and Canada has no idea that any other nation exercises suzerainty or provides its protection. We are proud of our place in the Empire and conscious of our responsibility as being midway between Europe and Asia."

Food Faddists

Freak Diets Turned A Starvation Course By American Doctor

The "freak diets" of the food faddists were termed a starvation course to "physical destruction" by Dr. Milton Bridges, diet expert of Columbia University.

"There does not exist any fruit, meat, fish or other food which in itself is capable of reducing physical weight as much as 1-1,000th of a pound," he said in an address.

If there is one general deficiency in the North American diet today, he added, it is lack of protein. Middle-aged persons in particular are inclined to be anemic because they fail to eat enough meat, eggs, cheese, fish and gelatin.

"It is about time some of our old ideas were exploded," he said.

"The efficacy of fish as a brain food, lettuce to produce sleep, onions to cure a cold, parsley to increase fluid output, broth for strength, port wine and nutty nails as blood purifiers, celery to soothe the nerves, skim milk and bananas for reducing, and last but not least, an apple a day to keep the doctor away, have all been proved without foundation."

Just The Thing

Her newly elevated ladyship had just been introduced to a notable elocutionist, who had kindly volunteered to entertain the children at a local charity garden fete.

"It is nice of you to say you will entertain the children, Mr. Duntont-Greene. How shall I introduce you?"

"Well, your ladyship, I usually recite extempore."

"Oh, 'Extempore!'" she gushed.

"I know of no piece more appropriate!"

A Delightful Shower

A real jolly event took place in the lodge hall last Wednesday evening, the guest of honor being Miss Helen Knudson, a bride elect of this week. When Miss Knudson arrived those present gave her a very hearty welcome by all singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow." Miss Aletha Knudson, as mistress of ceremonies, conducted in fine style an impromptu program. Mrs. Caprani Winkel was the pianist for the singing of old time songs. A duet by Mrs. McFarland and Mrs. Fletcher and a solo by Miss Margery

McFarland. Following this Jacqueline Tate and Theodore Hill, representing "Jack and Jill," conducted Miss Knudson to a well filled table overflowing with lovely and useful gifts, for which she heartily thanked all the givers. The hall was nicely decorated with streamers, wedding-bells and flowers, the clever work of Miss Flewelling and her helpers. A bountiful lunch was served at the close, and all present joined hands in singing "Auld Lang Syne." Those assisting in serving were Mrs. Albert Knudson, Mrs. Ina Knudson, Miss Mary Elliott, Miss Alice Flewelling, Mrs. R. Larson and others.
